

Another day has gone
Somehow life just seems to carry on Going through the motions from now on
Another day has gone

Another lifetime it seems
All the time we spent is just melancholy memory
Left to fate we played our part
Still you remain in my heart

Another time, Another place
Where you and I were we
It's only me
Reminiscing sweetly

Left to fate I believed
In love so strong to carry on
From here until eternity
And I still believe

Such is life as I see
A test of time and trials and poetry
Of grace and shame
All this I've seen

Of good and bad
All this I've had
Still you remain in my heart

Another time, Another place
Where you and I were we
It's only me
